Woldingham Golf Club – The Course

Taking in the natural contours of the valley in which it sits, Woldingham is an attractive course, for golfers of all abilities.

Nestled in the serenity of the Halliloo Valley just north of Woldingham, in the heart of the Surrey North Downs, Woldingham Golf Clubs excellent course and facilities have become a popular destination for both golfers and event planners.

Designed by American course Architect Bradford Benz, the beautiful, rolling course makes the most of the contours of the valley in which it sits and suggests a relaxed game many have yet to experience!

Built to a high standard the course sits on a chalk base, excellent for drainage, together with USGA specification greens, guaranteeing year round play. The par 71 course has a fine layout with a number of tricky par 3's and unusual double 9th and 18th greens that play out in front of the clubhouse and make for some interesting viewing. Look out for the 10th - one of the strongest par 4 holes on the course and the 17th tee, which will entice you to linger longer than perhaps you should!

The Woldingham Golf Club bar facilities will be open for Brethren to purchase wines/drinks before and during the meal, and relax either inside or outside on the patio area.
