

Roger McGuire Funeral Arrangements

As some of you are already aware, Dad sadly passed away on Thursday 14th May at Basingstoke Hospital. Dad had a fall at home on Saturday 9th May and broke his wrist, he was admitted for an operation but sadly suffered a catastrophic brain haemorrhage in the early hours of Monday 11th May.

Dads funeral will take place at the West Berkshire Crematorium on Friday 12th June at midday.

You may be aware that due to the current government restrictions only 20 mourners are permitted to attend the service. We know that many of you would like to attend, so the service will be available via a live webcast. We would like you to join us remotely for the service via this live stream.

Instructions to access the webcast are

- Go to www.obitus.com
- In the top right-hand corner enter your user name: west4700
- In the top right-hand corner enter your password : 929359
- You can log in to view a Test Webcast in advance of the service to familiarise yourself with the process.

We have organised flowers from immediate family and set up a web page in memory of Dad where you can light a candle for him look at some photos and donate to Dogs Trust if you so wish.

The memory page can be found at <https://rogermcguire.muchloved.com>

Mum, Ginny and I have been overwhelmed with kind messages, flowers, stories and tributes. We plan to hold a memorial service later in the year so we can have the chance to celebrate his life together with you , until then we hope that you will be able to join us to celebrate Dads life, which he lived to the full with humour and determination. As we cannot be together, we hope that you will raise a glass to him on the 12th June.
